Japanese Suffer

Hundreds Of American Planes Destroy Jap Warplanes And Ships

STRENGTH OF JAPS ON BASE CRUSHED

By FRANK ROBERTSON ALLIED HEADQUAR TERS In The Southwest enemy's great Southwest Pacific base of Rabaul on New Britain Island was crushed today as a result of the most devastating aerial Fund Campaign bombardment yet launched by Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

"I think we've broke it's back." declared the Allied supreme commander at the conclusion of the raid on Rabaul.

Hundreds of four-motored Liber-Mitchells escorted by P-38 fighters destroyed or damaged 177 Jap planes and sank, destroyed or damaged 123 Nipponese war vessels. The Allied planes expended 350 tons of bombs and 250,000 rounds of ammunition during the withering twohour assault

Approximately 60 percent of Japan's air strength at Rabaul was destroyed when the Allied fliers smashed 100 enemy craft on the ground at Vunakanau, Ropopo and Tobera airdromes, damaged 51 other grounded craft and knocked 26 Jap planes out of the sky in gruel-

The airdrome assaults were carried out by Mitchells which crippled the enemy's air defenses before the Liberators swept in over the harbor to strike at the Jap shipping and harbor installations.

Hurl 1,000 Pound Bombs The heavy B-24 bombers hurled 1,000-pound bombs into the attack on the shipping and sank or destroyed three destroyers, two merchant ships of 5,800 tons, one of 7,000 tons and 43 sea going cargo (Continued On Page Two)

TERMS TO ITALY

Declaration Of War On Germany May Soften "Unconditional Surrender" Terms

By ROBERT G. NIXON

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14-Naziravaged Italy declared war on its one-time Nazi ally Wednesday and the United States, Great Britain and Russia immediately welcomed the Badoglio government as a fighting partner.

As evidence of good faith, the three powers opened the door for eventual relaxation of the terms of unconditional surrender imposed on the Italians when they bowed out of the conflict, early in the autumn. The possibility of softening the Allied unconditional surrender ultimatum to Italy was seen in a statement issued by President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill of Britin and Premier Stalin of Russia, welcoming Italy as a co-belligerent against the Germans.

The joint declaration said that Italy's action today "cannot of itself affect the terms recently signed (unconditional surrender)." But the statement then said that they may be "adjusted by agreement . . . in the light of assistance which the Italian government may be able to afford the Allied Nation's cause." This was interpreted by Washington observers as indicating an eventual relaxing of the unconditional surrender.

There was no indication just what inducement the Allies brought to bear to bring about the declaration of war by Italy. Also there was no official indication of just what the Allies held in store for Italy in the future, other than the words in the joint statement as the real liberal leader of the country, the one genuine interpreter of "liberal thought". That is the light in which they are portrayed by their friends and, if their public utterances are an indication, it is the role they equally want to play. And each appears anxious to be the hero of the weekly radical press. The more the words of these two men are studied the clearer it becomes that they are both on same side of the street. If, by chance, they should be rival candidates next year, there would not be much room for debate between them. The view of the practical politicians at this time is that in the Democratic party there is slight chance of Mr. Wallace being nominated, even if Mr. Roosevelt does not run again and wanted him. In the Republican party, the feeling is that the odds are against Mr. Willkie. One reason for these beliefs is that both are so hotly crusading for "true liberalism" that the practical politicians not only do not understand what they are talking about (and are not sure that they do) but are unable to get them down on a level where they will listen.

A SHORT while ago, the politically astute Mr. James F. Byrnes, trenchantly remarked that "you can't negotiate with a fellow who is carrying a torch." While he did not intend to apply this either to Mr. Willkie or Mr. Wallace, it does apply to them both. Each is certainly carrying a torch, and it seems to be the same torch. Of course, the politicians have often been wrong in the past and easily may be wrong now. In their diagnosis they probably are right in eliminating Mr. Wallace as a Presidential possibility - and, some think, even a Vice-Presidential possibility) next time. For, he has been greatly deflated since the day, a year and more ago, when he was being extolled by all the left-wing writers as a second Lincoln, on the basis of a rather ridiculous speech which they undertook to compare to the Gettysburg address and of which the OWI wastefully and futilely sent more than a million copies abroad.

THAT SPEECH, more highly propagandized than any other New Deal utterance since the New Deal began, now has been almost entirely forgotten, and the notion that Mr. Wallace should be considered serlously as a possible President is cherished by a greatly diminished and discouraged group of advocates. In brief, Mr. Wallace is sunk. He tried to cover so vast a territory in so Olympian a way that he became engulfed in his own verbiage. of many admirable personal traits. What he seems to lack is a sense of proportion. At to Mr. Willkie, the nim this time as in 1940. Then, he made a remarkable fight, in which the politicians were mostly opposed and the odds heavy against. But, he won. This time he has the same ers" to the "people". This means that he will enter every primary where there is the slightest chance of success and then, regardless of the primaries, carry his fight, as he did last time, to the convention floor. State Highway Employes Safety Record Lauded

HARRISBURG, Oct. 14-Secretary John U. Shroyer commended employes of the Pennsylvania Department of Highways today for their excellent safety record and said they have been the means of placing the Department in the forefront in accident prevention work.

Safety Award Cards will soon be issued to the Supervisory personnel who have had no lost-time accidents in their working crews for one or more consecutive years, as well as to equipment operators who such a manner so as not to become involved in an accident.

"It is not unusual for the Department of Highway employes to establish an outstanding safety record," Shroyer said. "But it is particularly gratifying at this time, when the urgency of the war effort demands extra care to avoid any interruption of production as a result of accidents affecting manpower, to know that safety record can be maintained."

Early this year the Secretary commended employes for establishing an all-time low record in losttime accidents, both in number and preportion to man-hours worked.

Status Of Italy's War Prisoners To Be Discussed

War Department spokesmen today indicated that the United States, Great Britain and Russia may confer soon about the status of the 650.000 Italian war prisoners in light of Italy's declaration of war on Ger-

The spokesman said Italian prisoners, meanwhile will continue to be treated as outlined under terms of the Badoglio government's unconditional surrender to the Allies.

Only 50,000 of the total 650,000 Italian prisoners are interned in the United States, the war department disclosed. Approximately 150,-000 Italians were taken prisoner in Tunis, 100,000 in Sicily, and large numbers in Egypt, Tripoli, Ethiopia and other early fighting areas.

Washington sources expressed the opinion that the Allied treatment of Italian prisoners may depend on large extent to the degree of support given to the war effort by Italy.

miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.
The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess neids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pinta a day. If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizzi-ness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is some thing wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14. - A winning Yankee paid a great compliment to a beaten Cardinal today when Charley Keller reflected a moment, running over in his mind all the pitchers he had faced, then

I would rather hit against anybody in either league than Mort Cooper." This comes from a left-handed slugger - the runner-up for the major league home run championship — in a tribute to a right-handed thrower. Keller said naturally he would rather bat against a righthander than a left-hander generally, but that doesn't apply to Cooper. Keller Disappointed

Having just finished the worst of the four world series he has appeared in, from a standpoint of his own accomplishments, Keller was a little disappointed in himself but quite happy about it all too. The Yankees won and that is about the only thing a Yankee cares about. That makes them a singular ball club.

In fact, Keller was about as pleased over Bill Dickey's winning home run, with Keller on base, as a man could be. Dickey is his roommate in keeping with some kind of a Yankee custom that puts the sluggers together. It used to be Dickey and the late Lou Gehrig, and Keller somehow succeeded to Gehrig's place in the room of the Yankee dean upon the death of Keller, the perenial runner-up for home run honors in the majors, is the man who will be expected to carry on the Yankee slugging pattern when Dickey finally is gone a year or two hence.

Then to Keller will fall the burden of keeping alive that spark that makes the Yankess an unbelievable ball club, one unspoiled by good fortune but as tough as they come when necessary. They would much prefer to win by merely slamming your brains out with home runs. but they can do some shoving on the bases and beefing if needs be Johnson Ace Rookie

Keller thinks there is only one man really entitled to the rookie of the year award for 1943. That's Bill Johnson, the Yankee third

This year however the majority of the local crop will be sold on the local market . . for a winter supply of "Spuds" . . . The way that is usually worked is this way . . . You pick potatoes and receive a certain amount per bushel then at the end of the day you are privileged do receive the best potatoes . . . Call the Emergency Farm Labor Office for further information concerning potato picking . .

Friday evening at 6 o'clock is the dead line for packages to Army other Post Office in the United States will close at 6 o'clock and not one more package for a soldier will be taken . . . So govern yourself accordingly. There has been plenty of publicity on this matter in the past month or two so don't be caught short. This is one law that will be enforced . . . Government orders, Sailor and Marine packages may be mailed up and to November 1st . . . but Friday evening at 6 o'clock, October 15, is the dead line for packages to be mailed to the Soldiers over seas.
